

Revisionist

Description:

Revisionist is a new take on an old idea! Produced on European hides, Revisionist blends an oil finish with aniline dyes to create a dimensional pull up leather that displays unrivaled character. This perfect blend of oil and aniline allows you to gaze into the hide and see the natural structure of the hide staring back. Revisionist is a supple leather for the true leather enthusiast who appreciates the natural subtle shading that Revisionist offers. Features such as scars or “life lessons” are darkened by the oil and should be appreciated rather than misunderstood. Designed to wear with age, Revisionist will look more vintage as time goes by. Revisionist is a beautiful improvement on an old idea!
